

Carly Nelson - One Hemp Brands <carly@oneinnovationlabs.com>

Chief Operations Officer of One Hemp. Carly is a highly sought after organizational leader who has helped lead organizational and restructuring efforts for various companies with a focus on positioning them as leaders in innovation and technological advancements. A proven results leader, Carly has helped companies of various sizes successfully rebuild their organizational structure, policies and procedures to increase revenue, streamline operations to increase productivity, and advance product development and client experiences. Carly's executive expertise also includes marketing and event experience that has helped increase brand awareness for several organizations nationally and internationally. She has led rebranding, restructuring and revitalization efforts for companies that have resulted in global recognition. Her event planning and management experience has also helped One Hemp and other companies showcase products at trade shows and in the international marketplace to audiences of more than 17,000. Carly helps lead One Hemp's effort to develop strategic planning, global marketing and strategic sourcing efforts. Carly currently resides in Miami, FL, with her boyfriend and two dogs. She is as committed to personal development, her spirituality, and her overall wellbeing bringing balance in and out of the office.